COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Plans are being made to surface Main Street around the first of June. This will be done by placing a strip 20 feet wide of the paving material down the center of the street in an attempt to eliminate the rough places. Tar will be applied to the sides to seal the surface.

Prior to this work we will remove the present material in some areas to a depth of two or more feet and refill with gravel. There are a few spots that heave and break up each year, we hope to control them with this method.

If a street has to be dug into for any reason we will expect the excavation to be backfilled with properly tamped gravel and the old material removed. This will prevent some of the problems that arise maintaining these places in the future.

PLANNING BOARD REPORTS ON ZONING PROPOSALS

Next Tuesday, May 14, Bethel voters will be given a chance to express their views on zoning. Following the public hearing on May 2, the Planning Board met to decide its recommendations on the articles in the warrant. In order that the voters might fully understand the articles and the recommendations of the board, this article will attempt to clarify the proposed changes in the Zoning Ordinance.

The Board recommends that articles 3, 12, 14, 16, 17, 21, 23, 24, and 25 be passed. Article 3 would change the area in West Bethel from the Favreau mill property to Pine Grove Cemetery from Industrial to Highway Commercial. Article 12 provides that Subdividers must provide a public street in accordance with Bethel's Subdivision Regulations. This will prevent inconsistencies by making a written law of the present policy of the town.

Article 14 will permit two family and multi-family dwellings in the Residential-Farming district; the lot area must allow 5,000 more square feet for each additional unit. Article 16 would change the zoning on both sides of Route 26 from the Greenwood town line to Beaver Brook from R-F to Highway Commercial. Article 17 will permit mobile homes in the Industrial district as long as they are not on the same lot as an industry, and as long as the lot is large enough.

Article 21-22-23 are concerned with signs; Article 21 will permit directional signs at intersections of State numbered highways and road leading to the advertised business. Article 22 will permit Business signs in the Industrial zone, and Article 23 will permit business signs in the R-F zone. Article 24 will allow improvement of houses already existing in the Industrial district, and Article 25 will permit gasoline service stations in the Industrial zone.

The Board recommends that Article 26, to abolish all zoning in Bethel, NOT pass. They believe that changes and improvements in the Zoning Ordinance should be made to plan for future development of the town, but that these changes be made with care and foresight.

The remaining articles (4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 13, 15, 18, 19, 20) are articles which have caused controversy because they would cause drastic changes in the present.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS ACCEPT TEACHER RESIGNATION AT MEETING, MONDAY

Meeting at Bethel's Crescent Park School on Monday of this week, the board of directors accepted with regret, the resignation of Mrs. Doris Lord, teacher of grade six at the Crescent Park School.

The directors voted to accept the nominations of the superintendent, Ralph K. Ryder, of the following personnel: Walter T. Ruark, as head of the social studies department at Telstar Regional High School, for the 1968-69 school year; Timothy LaVallee, as head of the physical education department at Telstar Regional High School, for the 1968-69 school year; William H. Morton, as a social studies teacher at Telstar Regional High School for the 1968-69 school year. Ralph Niemi, as driver education instructor for the summer of 1968. Also accepted was the superintendent's recommendation that Dean Churchill be transferred from the social studies department to the Junior High math department for the 1968-69 school year.

The directors voted that pupils from the town of Gilead be accepted on a tuition basis for the 1968-69 school year.

Ted Chadbourne reported that the Transportation Committee had purchased three new school buses: two 66-passenger Wayne bus bodies and one 79-passenger Wayne bus body from the Henley Kilmall Company, of Portland; two Chevrolet chassis for the 66-passenger buses from Morton Motor Company, Farmington; and one International chassis for the 79-passenger bus from Carter Equipment Company, Bethel.

Lester Bickford reported for the building committee. Included was an up-to-date report on the Deering Landscape case, as well as equipment purchased for the new high school.

Mr. Ryder made brief comments on the financial statement distributed at the meeting. A meeting of the finance committee is being held this Thursday afternoon at the district office.

The next regular meeting of the Board of Directors will be held on Monday, May 20, 7:30 p. m., at the R. C. Foster School, Newry.

PORTION OF BETHEL VILLAGE TO BE WITHOUT WATER, FRIDAY MAY 17

Officials of the Bethel Water District have announced that a portion of Bethel Village will be without water on Friday, May 17. Areas to be affected will include: Railroad Street, east of Mechanic Street; Mechanic Street; Vernon Street; Tyler Street; Kilborn Street; Mason Street; Chapman Street; Spring Street, and High Street.

SPECIAL LOCAL REFERENDUM NEXT TUESDAY, MAY 14

Bethel voters will have a chance to cast their votes on a total of 25 questions in a special referendum election at the Bethel Fire Station.

The polls will open upon order of the moderator soon after 10 o'clock next Tuesday morning, May 14. Polls will remain open until 8 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Previous to the opening of the polls in the morning the recommendations of the Planning Board will be presented. These recommendations appear elsewhere on this page, also are included with publication of the warrant on Page 7. The specimen ballot appears on Page 8.

The Planning Board recommends a "No" vote on article 26 that would abolish all zoning in the town of Bethel. Under the provisions of Title 30, §4952, M. R. S., a proposal disapproved by a Planning Board that has adopted a comprehensive plan may be enacted only by a 2/3 vote of the legislative body (i. e. participating voters). The local Planning Board adopted such a plan on July 11, 1967.

The Planning Board either recommends "Yes" or makes no recommendations on the other zoning proposals. A simple majority will be necessary to adopt these proposals.

On a separate ballot Bethel voters will be asked their decision on the feasibility of forming a Sewer District. As announced last week the Bethel Selectmen recommend a "No" vote as they see no necessity for such a District at this time. They feel preliminary plans for a sewage disposal facility soon to be required by State and Federal regulation can best be handled as a municipal function. In the future, a more feasible solution might be to combine the water and sewer operation in a single Utilities District.

Money earned from the sale amounted to $54.15 and will be used for materials for future use.

Mrs. Kneeland and her class were assisted in preparing and serving of refreshments by Mrs. Lona Gilbert, Mrs. Olive Head, Mrs. Josephine Tripp, Mrs. Eleanor Lovejoy and Mrs. Carol Jordan.

Time To Spare

By GERALD ANDREWS - Retirement Adviser

Any Antiques in the Attic?

Now that spring cleaning is here again, there's a point you might bear in mind when you start pitching out all that "junk" in the attic. Some of it could be worth money to you.

I'm referring to items that come under the heading of "turn-of-the-century antiques."

There's no contradiction in that phrase. With older antiques becoming scarce, and prices soaring, dealers are looking for period pieces dating from the years 1890-1925.

That's what they mean in the trade when they talk about "turn-of-the-century antiques."

The market is there because these pieces add nostalgia to value. Clients who remember the good-old-days snap up mementoes such as china, mirrors, clocks, firearms, toys, posters, and so on.

You can see how easy it is to overlook the "new antiques."

They've been in the family for a generation or two. They're no longer of much practical use. They're just gathering dust. So, why not give them to the junk man?

That logic is the more persuasive when you consider that

"new antiques" frequently are mixed in with piles of junk. Which means that the first problem is to sort them out.

How can you tell what's good and what isn't? One pretty good rule-of-thumb is to hold onto anything that looks interesting, especially if it has some unique angle — for example, a book autographed on the fly-leaf by some famous personality.

After that, consult some books on the subject in the local library, and have a look at the lists of antiques for sale in the magazines. If you decide that you really do have something of value, then a talk with a dealer may be in order.

Mind, I'm not trying to raise any false hopes, or to pretend that many of us have a fortune in the attic. Most of the stuff that gets tossed out as junk, really is junk. I'm simply suggesting that anyone with family possessions handed down by his parents or grandparents, ought to examine each piece with a critical eye before consigning it to the ash can.

After all, many a "turn-of-the-century antique" has been found in just this way.

WOODSTOCK

The South Woodstock Seventh day Adventist church will join with like churches on May 11, in a Servicemen's Fund offering to focus on the 7,000 Adventist young men serving in the United States armed forces around the world. This offering is to supply Adventist young men with appropriate literature and to help

East Bethel and Northwest Bethel schools.

At a special town meeting it was voted to build a new school house at East Bethel. The estimated cost was $5,100.

the church keep in touch with its boys overseas. SDA young men are not draft dodgers and because of conscientious principles must become unarmed Medics when they are inducted. In this way they serve their country without taking life. Right now about 550 Adventists are serving in Vietnam, where at least 35 have been killed in action. They have been awarded 8 silver stars and 22 bronze stars for valor on the battlefield. The denomination has 12 military chaplains and 9 civilian chaplains to counsel servicemen. They also maintain 3 Servicemen's Centers, where off-duty hours may be spent and friends and relatives entertained when home is too far distant to visit. These "Homes away from home," are located in Washington, D. C., San Antonio, Texas, and Frankfurt, Germany. A fourth will soon be constructed on Okinawa. A $100,000 offering is anticipated, which will support this program for the next two years.

ANTI-ZONING CLAIMS APPEAR TO BE INACCURATE

Letters to the editor and anti-zoning flyers distributed in Bethel have raised serious questions and contained erroneous statements. While answers may be found by reading the Zoning Ordinance, attending the meetings or reading the minutes, consulting Building Permits, maps and other official records, this article, by a member of the Planning Board, summarizes what would be found.

Bethel's population may have decreased slightly since the 1960 census, but there is no official count. Figures based on Maine births, as reported in the town report, are inaccurate since they fail to include births to Bethel residents in Berlin, N. H. The Sewall Co. found the total of taxable plus exempt polls, plus school enrollment, to be 20 less in 1965 than in 1960.

Houses on lots less than today's minimum area are generally old buildings, such as some of those in the Steam Mill area.

Building Permits, intended to assist the tax assessors, are not "spared" certain people. Both the owner and the town manager have copies which you may ask to see. There is no "Occupancy Permit" in Bethel.

Areas zoned Industrial are not limited to present areas nor generally subject to flooding, with the exception of Alder River area. While some undeveloped Industrial land is owned by present industries, Bethel has an excellent record of such land being made available to newcomers. At least three of Bethel's seven woodworking plants bought Industrial land from other Bethel woodworking industries when they set up. While several rural residents own land zoned Industrial, there have been three cases where land recommended for Industrial by the Sewall Co. was made Residential-Farming because the owners did not want industry near their homes.

A large part of Paradise Road is zoned Residential-Farming, which is why a mobile home located there did not need a hearing before the Board of Appeals. (If articles 17, 18, and 19 pass on May 14, the Board of Appeals will not be asked to judge the appropriateness of a mobile home as an exception, in any location in Bethel.)

Although a majority of Bethel's new residents appear to favor zoning, they do not dominate the Planning Board. Of its regular members, only one has been in Bethel less than 20 years.

The eight quotations below are statements, or questions, appearing in anti-zoning flyers distributed in Bethel by those seeking to abolish all zoning:

1. "These ordinances have been ineffective, if the person they were applied against had the time, money, and desire to fight the action to its conclusion."

The Zoning Ordinance adopted in March, 1967, was recommended by the James W. Sewall Company, planning consultants, authorized by vote of the Town. It is considered by experts to be legally sound and has not been upset in court. Two Bethel zoning cases have gone to court. One party (in 1965) appealing the granting of a Building Permit for a poultry house in Mayville, lost. The court backed up the Town Manager, who had issued the permit. Another party, appealing a decision of the Zoning Board of Appeals regarding a mobile home on Bridge Street, apparently abandoned his legal case and requested a second hearing with the Board of Appeals. They granted an exception as is permitted under the Zoning Ordinance.

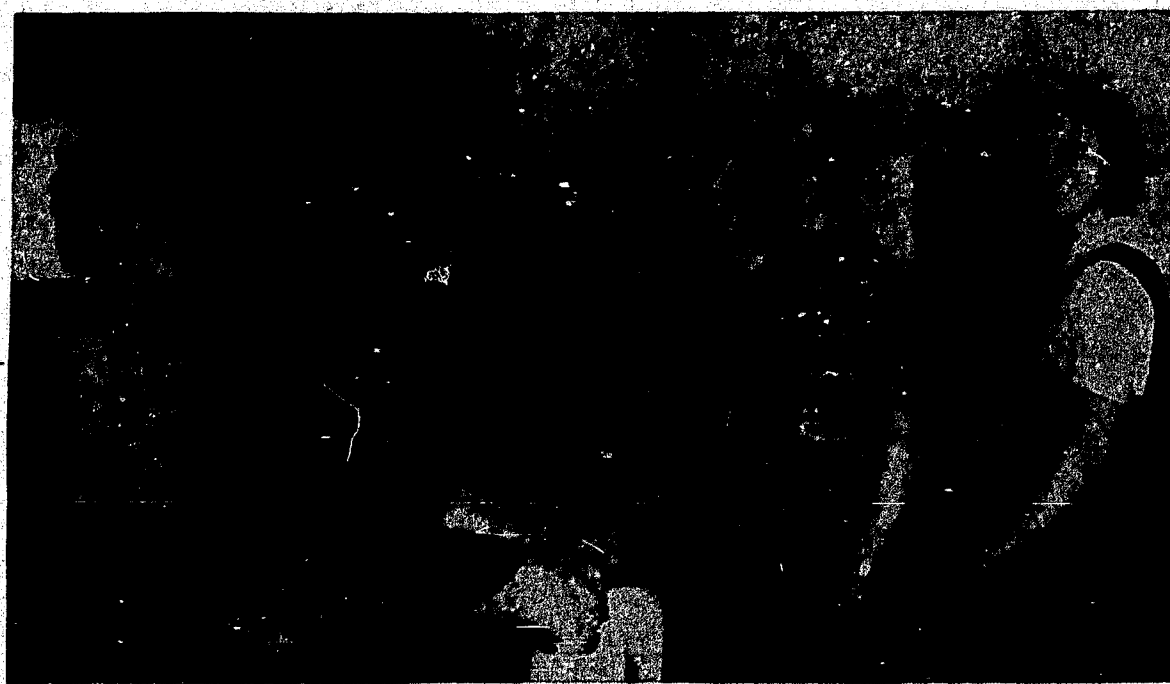

2. "What rules do the Planning Board operate by?" The rules for the Planning Board and Board of Appeals are:

Bryant Pond Universalist Church
Sunday morning worship service at 9 a. m. Rev. Sheldon Christian, of Brunswick, the speaker. Church School at 10:15 a. m. Choir rehearsal Saturday at 10 a. m.
Woodstock Seventh-Day Adventist Church
Pastor: David I. Shaw
Saturday:
Sabbath School: 10 a. m.
Church Service: 11:30.
Prayer meeting: Wednesday evening: 7:30.
Pilgrims Fellowship meeting at the church.

3. "Some people are of the mind that some changes should be made in the code of ordinances; but this is not possible as the law will not allow such changes. To change the ordinances to any great extent the whole must be done away with, or no part thereof."

Any part of the Zoning Ordinance may be changed. The Planning Board advocates selective changes and has accordingly called for a vote on all requests presented to it, and on others of general concern.

Nearly all the articles are given Friday evening at Bing-Spring Concert. A two piano, eight hand number with rhythm band will be a feature of the S. A. D. 44 spring concert to be given Friday evening at Bing-Spring Concert. The pianists pictured above are Sam Eames, Mary Ann Chapin, Ellen Greenleaf, and Susan Davis.

YOUNG PIANISTS to play at Bing-Spring Concert. A two piano, eight hand number with rhythm band will be a feature of the S. A. D. 44 spring concert to be given Friday evening at Bing-Spring Concert. The pianists pictured above are Sam Eames, Mary Ann Chapin, Ellen Greenleaf, and Susan Davis.

AT RECEPTION—Edmond Gould class of 1962, and Mrs. Vachon, former Gould headmaster; S. Brainard Vinton, guest speaker, Mrs. Vinton, and their daughter, Miss Betsy Vinton, Gould class of 1962, and Mrs. Vachon, at the reception following the National Honor Society Assembly at Gould Academy last Thursday afternoon.

Appeals are covered by Maine State Statutes, Title 30.

3. "Some secrecy... appears to persist in the Planning Board action." Planning Board meetings are generally announced and open to the public. The Planning Board has met 24 times since March 1966 and has gone into executive session (to weigh opposing arguments) only twice in this time. After May 14th, regular meetings, open to the public, are scheduled for the second Thursday of each month.

4. "The Planning Board did not meet even though they were asked to meet numerous times for hearings." The Planning Board has met in each case within ten days after receiving any specific request for a change in the Ordinance. (Specific requests are those presented in writing to the Chairman of the Planning Board proposing a change in a certain provision.) Petitions have not been required except to abolish complete sections.

5. "They had not, up until April 15 of this year, come up with any concrete changes either for better or for worse." The Board brought five changes to vote, after a public hearing, in 1967, each relaxing provisions originally recommended by the Sewall Co. As of April 18 they had drawn up, after meetings, 19 of the 23 changes to be voted on May 14.

6. "The Planning Board postponed the hearing so that they could enter their petitions for Australian ballot." Postponement was made necessary by a late petition requesting Australian ballot on the article to abolish zoning completely. Since this required daytime voting, and several changes were scheduled to be voted on the same evening, the Planning Board felt the voter should be shown the alternatives at the polls. They therefore petitioned to place the other articles on the same secret ballot.

7. "It appears that either the Planning Board is discriminating against some of the townspeople or are only interested in the convenience of a few people."

This Zoning Ordinance, like all others, discriminates on the basis of permitted uses within specified areas. The purpose is to protect desirable living conditions and property value, and to provide suitable locations for the future growth.

8. "Some people are of the mind that some changes should be made in the code of ordinances; but this is not possible as the law will not allow such changes. To change the ordinances to any great extent the whole must be done away with, or no part thereof."

Any part of the Zoning Ordinance may be changed. The Planning Board advocates selective changes and has accordingly called for a vote on all requests presented to it, and on others of general concern.

91 C. P. S. STUDENTS SIGN UP FOR BABY SITTING COURSE
A total of 91 students in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades at Crescent Park School have signed up for a Baby Sitting Course to be sponsored by the Bethel Health and Service Council beginning May 15.

There will be six sessions involved in the course as follows:

1. You as a Baby Sitter—Florence Haines; 2. Understanding Children—Virginia Keniston, Mary Angewine; 3. Basic Child Care—Janet Stowell, Annabelle Lee; 4. Safety and Health, R. S. McMillin, Phyllis Dock; 5. A Good Sitter is a Good Player—Judith Haskell; 6. Getting a Job—Laurel Harrell.

After each session the person in charge will present a summary in the Bethel Citizen to acquaint the parents in the area with the material covered in order that they may fully cooperate with the newly groomed sitters.

It should be mentioned at this time that the fact is recognized that a sixth grader, approximately twelve years of age is generally considered too young to undertake the "full responsibilities" of baby sitting. However, the Health Council feels justified in offering the course to them, so that at least when they do start they will have had some background and training. Also they are so very enthusiastic.

Requirements of the course will be: 1. Attendance at all but one class; 2. A score of 70 or better on the test at the last class; 3. A neat notebook to be passed in the last day. The notebook is to be a collection of everything caused by the limited area zoned Highway Commercial. Some were submitted by landowners competing to sell land for a proposed gasoline station near the Androscoggin River bridge. Other areas were included by the Planning Board to give the voter a choice of areas in which businesses serving motorists are to be encouraged.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK
Zoning Should Be Responsive to Community's Wishes
It has become increasingly evident over the past 14 months that a large segment of Bethel's voters do not favor the present zoning code. In fact many that favor zoning as a guide for eventual community growth have become disenchanted with the present code, quite possibly more than opponents to zoning realize.

With the infallibility of hindsight, this writer sees that the greatest fault of the former code, in effect from September of 1958 to March of last year, was that it had become unwieldy through numerous amendments. A concise revision of the old ordinance might well have been better than the present one, with its apparent callous disregard for many of the older law's features.

While we believe it would be a decision of questionable long-range benefit to repeal the present law, even with its numerous faults, we find ourselves in agreement with many of its critics. Principally in the Industrial and Residential-Farming areas many of its provisions, while they may be theoretically sound, are in point of application, patently unrealistic.

Even if the vote next Tuesday shows zoning opponents to be in the minority it would be well for those entrusted with local planning to pay them heed. For while a minority has no right to govern, they do have a right to be heard, despite a planning board's statutory privilege in requiring a 2/3 vote.

For as Shakespeare said, "Methinks there is much reason in their sayings."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR
May 6, 1968

Bethel Citizen
Bethel, Maine
Dear Editor:

During World War II I was initiated into the Ancient Order of the Deep when crossing the equator at a censored longitude. As part of my initiation, I spent several hours transferring the Pacific Ocean on the port side to the starboard side with a bucket.

On Monday afternoon this event was vividly brought back to me when from my operatory window as I discussed diet, home care, and other preventive measures with a teenage patient, the Coca Cola truck unloaded a dispensing monster to the "Youth Center" (quotes intentional) across the street.

With this sort of thing, lack of fluoridation, our dental manpower shortage, and rising medical costs we can look forward with confidence to many dental cripples in the future.

Back to the bucket—
John W. Trinward, DMD

CUB SCOUTS
Den 3 met at Mrs. Brown's. We had cookies and Kool-Aid. We went outdoors and Mrs. Brown took pictures of the den. When we came back in we stained our frames then we went back outdoors and played two games "Caged Tiger" and "Pom Pom Pull Away." — Keeper of the Buckskin, Tommy Stecher.

After the meeting Mrs. MacKay gave a demonstration on cake decorating which was very interesting. She also served refreshments following the meeting.

The afternoon circle of the W. S. C. S. was held at Hulda Stevens' home with sixteen members present. Norma and Gladys Cross had the program. They read several very nice poems about mothers and grandmothers. The group enjoyed a very interesting Bible study. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Stevens served refreshments.

THE YOUTH CENTER SPEAKS TO YOU

D. Westleigh - T. Davis
Crowds averaging approximately 75 a day have been attending the Youth Center since its opening. We of the board of directors feel that success is being accomplished to a greater degree as the Center remains open. We have decided to save all the money possible toward a building of our own in the future, whether it be a new one, or one donated.

Some problems have come up in the last few weeks. Some damage has been done to a couch and to the ceiling of the dining room. At the next board meeting we will discuss what measures are to be taken. It has become necessary to regulate the use of the pool tables by allowing one couple to play only one game, and the winner of that game to play a challenger. This is to eliminate domination of the tables by one pair of players.

Membership cards should go on sale at the Youth Center before the week is over. They will be sold for $1 and allow members special privileges as well as special duties. As of now it will not be mandatory for those attending to have cards.

Mrs. Emily Saunders of Dover-Foxcroft is spending some time in Bethel.

Miss Julia Brown spent the week end in Brunswick as the guest of Marion Downing.

Mrs. Frank Glazier has returned to Keene, N. H., after having spent the winter in Bethel.

Mrs. Harold Bennett has returned home after visiting with her son and wife in Washington, D. C.

CARD OF THANKS

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Cellista Morgan, Corres. —

Not infrequently we leave the rush and push of the main highway and find a road—one of those country roads climbing ever so slightly into the hills or one that has lost its way leading on into the wilderness. If you are interested in nature or wish to appreciate it, walk! It isn't how far one goes but what he sees that counts. To one, who observes, some thing may have much beauty while to another that same view may mean almost nothing. Just recently we traveled one such road. We strolled leisurely and were walled in by trees where numerous birds and insects sought food and protection.

Here the mood of nature was kind and quiet. Gentle soft breezes occasionally caught a handful of leaves, rustled them over the grass then settled back to stillness. Here we found tranquility and shared the secret haunts, fresh air, and shallow brooklets with nature. Passing through these surroundings, where interest is always changing we made new discoveries. A mild breath of wind brought earthly scent—we breathed deeply—then a fragrance! We paused to fill our eyes with the gay beauty!

Among the wild flowers
"Perfumed, I found, within a narrow dell,
The trailing (Arbutus) spring
flower tinted like a shell Amid dry leaves and mosses at my feet". (John G. Whitler)

In the low afternoon sun we crossed a stream on rocks once piled there to serve as a bridge.
This brook bubbled away, caring for nothing but gravity then broke in small ripples against the rocks.

Ahead there appeared an opening with an old cellar, proof of a long ago dwelling.

Three birches standing stately and tall had reared themselves in proud dignity from out the cellar and above the wall.

There was a shelf like rock of granite, possibly a door step which led in from a once spacious apple orchard, now gone wild.

A feeling of utter abandonment and loneliness brooded over all.
Yet it must have been a beautiful place for lilacs, lilies, and rose bushes still struggling to exist, spoke of days long passed.

No doubt, with stout hearts and powerful hands, a family once worked the rolling fields around it and the stubborn land had somehow yielded an increase.

There was a dimmer line now between day and night so we started our homeward way down across the orchard over mosses thick and soft muffling our tread.
Again we crossed the brook flowing not only through the meadows but through the years. We spoke of how its waters, hemmed in and so cold once furnished trout to this forgotten family on this forgotten homestead.

Coolness seemed to drop from the sky as we followed the tracks of the cart road with occasionally a boulder looming up beside us in the darkening shadows of night.

All too soon we emerged to the din of another world and the modern efficiency of the state road so different from the one of the granite door step, the wild orchard, and the evergreen solitudes we had left behind.

The idea was born in the Methodist Sunday school in Grafton,
W. Va., in 1876.

The speaker, a mother of 11
children, Mrs. Anna Reeves Jarvis. She so inspired her 12-year-old daughter, Anna, that she worked many years to promote it.

Her motto, "To honor the best mother who ever lived — your mother". Her chosen flower—carnation.

Climaxed on May 8, 1914, when President Wilson designated the second Sunday in May as annual Mother's Day.

Miracle

God took the pureness of the lily,
Softness of the clouds above
The strength of the mighty oak tree,
And he formed a mother's love.

PLANNING BOARD REPORTS

The Planning Board held last Friday evening. From left to right: Robert D. Hastings, member of the Gould Academy Board of Trustees; George Bowhay, baseball coach; Wilbur Myers, bursar at Gould and former varsity sports coach; Alvin Barth, ski coach; Drew Webster, Western Maine Basketball official, Toastmaster; Bob Cousy, former Boston Celtic and NBA basketball star, now head coach at Boston College, guest speaker; Charles Hurd, basketball coach; John Grover, Assistant Headmaster, and Edmond J. Vachon, Headmaster Emeritus.

Article 4 will change the area from Lover's Lane to the west boundary of the Red Lantern from General Residential and Residential-Farming to Highway Commercial; this land basically has been used for rural residences and farming. Article 5 will change a portion of the land in South Bethel from Industrial to Residential-Farming. Although some of this land is boggy, there are areas suitable for industry.

Articles 6 and 9 were placed in the warrant in response to an individual's request. These articles would change areas on Route 2 in Mayville from R-F to Highway Commercial; in the past this land has been used for residences and farming.

Articles 7 and 8 would also change land that has basically been used for residences and farming to Highway Commercial; this is on Route 2 beyond the Thurston Farm and along the Sunday River Road. Articles 9 and 10 would change both sides of Bridge Street which has been used for residences to Highway Commercial. Article 13 would change land along Railroad Street which has been zoned for pedestrian-oriented businesses and residences to Highway Commercial. Article 15 would change land that has been used industrially as the Grafton Lumber Co. site to Highway Commercial.

As the reader reviews these articles, it is plain that many Highway Commercial areas have been suggested; therefore, he should choose which of these areas he would prefer to see changed.

Articles 18 and 19 would permit mobile homes in the General Residential and the Highway Commercial area. Article 20 would permit multi-family dwellings in the general residential district. In the past mobile homes and multi-family dwellings were reviewed by the Board of Appeals so that there could be control as to number, location, relation to the neighborhood, and standard of performance.

It is the hope of the Planning Board that each citizen will vote and carefully consider each article so that future development of Bethel will be for the good of all.
